

Weather Email #2 - 1/26/26

Thank you for your patience as we've all been navigating winter weather. We hope you made it through the storm safely and are staying warm.

Deferral Form Still Available

We understand that travel plans and personal situations can change with recent weather conditions. The deferral form remains open for anyone who may need some added flexibility. As part of our standard deferral policy, there is a $10 fee, which helps offset a small portion of the race expenses already incurred in preparing for the event.

If we decide to close the deferral form later this week, we'll provide at least 24 hours' notice so you have time to decide what works best for you.

Monitoring Saturday's Forecast

We're also keeping a close eye on the possibility of winter weather in Charleston on Saturday. While forecasts can continue to shift, Friday will be the earliest point at which we expect to have clearer information about whether weather conditions may impact race operations. If there are any updates to share, we'll communicate them as soon as possible. Again, we appreciate your understanding and patience.

With those options in mind, here's everything you need to know as we prepare for race day.

Weather Email #1 (1/23/26)

Dear PNC Bank Charleston Half Marathon Participants,

We know many of you are closely watching the weather forecast and considering your travel and race day plans. We've heard from so many of you and understand that the storm forecast may mean adjusting or canceling travel. We want to support you as best we can during this uncertain time.

Reopened Deferral Window

To give you more flexibility, we are reopening the deferral form effective immediately. If you decide to defer your registration, you may do so anytime while the form is open. You will receive virtual credit for the amount you paid at registration (minus handling fees). This credit will be valid for one year and can be applied to any Capstone Event.

We will provide at least 24 hours' notice before closing the deferral window.

We are monitoring the weather as closely as you and will share any further updates as race day approaches. Thank you for your patience and understanding—we're here if you have any questions.

Stay safe and warm,

The PNC Bank Charleston Half Marathon Team
